Day Training

Our Day Training Program is the perfect solution for owners who want their pet trained, but don't wish to board their pet overnight. The pet is dropped off each morning, our trainer works with the pet during the day and then the owner picks up their pet in the evening. This program is specifically designed to create a training partnership between the trainer, owner and pet. One of our Kennelwood professionals will start your pet off on the right paw by teaching the basic behaviors of "come when called," "controlled walking," "sit," "down," and "stay." We can also work on modifying any negative behavior patterns your pet may be exhibiting at home. During the Day Training process, you will meet one-on-one with your pet's Personal Trainer intervals scheduled at your convenience to review accomplishments and discuss exercises you and your pet will have for homework. Your Personal Trainer will recommend the length and time needed for Day Training after evaluating your specific needs and wishes for complete training.

Board 'n Train

This program is the answer for the owner who loves their pet, but doesn't have the time for training at home. Let one of our Kennelwood professionals train your dog during the day and board him/her at our first class facilities at night. We handle all of the training and care-taking 24 hours a day. Your pet will learn, on-leash, the basic behaviors described for Day Training, in addition to all the advantages of a Personal Trainer. This program has all the learning advantages of Day Training, but your pet boards with us throughout the entire period. Prior to enrolling in both programs, we offer a free evaluation to discuss your training goals and the time required to effectively train your dog to meet your expectations. Call us today to make an appointment for your pet's free evaluation!

Custom Private Lessons

Private lessons are also available for your convenience. A professional, personal trainer will work with you and your pet, one-on-one, to help you solve specific problems and behaviors. These lessons can be scheduled at a Kennelwood location or in the privacy of your home. Advanced and off-leash training programs are also available.

House Training made Easy

In our years of experience, Kennelwood Pet ResortsSM has developed a house training method that will work for almost all dogs. Successful house training requires the family to learn effective communication with the pet. Once your pet understands what is expected, house training no longer has to be an unpleasant experience. A Personal Trainer will work with you one-on-one and design a program specific to your situation and individual pet. You will quickly learn to properly communicate with your dog to reach the desired behavior.

Our house training manual will assist you in tracking your pet's success during this learning process. Call the Kennelwood location nearest you and speak with a Personal Trainer to schedule a lesson to get you started immediately. Whether you have a puppy or older dog, Kennelwood makes house training easy!
